IN ORDER TO PUBLISH reports of meetings of various organizations, it would help if a press correspondent was appointed by each one to send in the news. It is impossible for a reporter to attend all the meetings, therefore co-operation would be appreciated, and at the same time publicity would be assured for the meetings.

Council Report Tax Payments Good

Over $60,000 of Coleman's town taxes was paid in by the end of July, reported secretary-treasurer Cliff Noble at council meeting July 25th. This figure represents approximately 75 per cent of the annual taxes.

Discussion was held on the increase in taxes charged to the Stop Inn Motel this year, and council instructed the secretary to write to the assessor to enquire how the figure of the land value was derived and why the assessment was increased.

Owner of the Stop Inn Motel had lodged a complaint, recently regarding the increase in taxes.

Council accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Betty Johnson, who is employed on the town office staff as assistant to the secretary. Mrs. Johnson will leave on August 25th.

Seven applications for the position of assistant to the secretary were received by council and studied. Three local applications were rejected and the remaining four applicants will be invited to meet with council early this week to be interviewed. Three are from Coleman and one is from Foremost.

A petition regarding dust conditions at the east end of second street was received by council. Council will advise the petitioners that steps are being taken to have the road ripped up, gravelled and then oiled.

Councillor Fred MacLeod reported that the local UMWIA had done considerable clean-up and improvement work at the Catholic and Union cemeteries, and that there are a number of piles of old wood fences and brush to be hauled away. Council approved the own truck hauling the debris away to be burned. The cemetery clean-up is a UMWIA Centennial project.

Fire Chief Henry Zak presented council with a list of new equipment required by the brigade, which included hoses, gum boots, coats, helmets, fire hoses, extinguishers, lamps, truck tires and other equipment totalling $1944.80. Council will study the request.

Fire Chief Zak, assistant Chief Ernie Montalbetti and members of the brigade will attend a pump school in Lethbridge.

In other business council gave first reading to a by-law authorizing the town to destroy old buildings; appointed Peter Walker as enumerator and will take steps to encourage home-owners to hook onto the town's sewer system.

Gas company foreman Joe Beigum reported that there were now over 500 hookups on to the owned Gas Company utility and that there were another six applications to be serviced.

First copy off the press of "CHINOOK ARCH", the Centennial Anthology published as a joint project of the Edmonton branch of the Canadian Authors' Association and the Government of Alberta, was presented recently to the Hon. E. C. Manning by John Patrick Gilless, Editor-in-Chief.

The Anthology consists entirely of the works of Alberta authors which have, for the most part, appeared in publications all over Canada and abroad, comprising a unique literary treasure — a "living history" of the province and its people, told by its own authors.

Short stories and articles by Grant MacEwan, J. G. MacGregor, W. O. Mitchell, Sheila MacKay Russell, Iris Allan, Frances Sheldrake Wees and many others, share the pages of the Anthology with the poems of Marie Jakober, Nancy Clegg, Barbara Villy Cormack, and the fabulous pictorial record of the province's history contained in the Ernest Brown and Harry Pollard collections.

In addition to Mr. Gilless, the editorial board consisted of Dr. W. G. Hardy as fiction editor, Margaret Coleman Johnson as features editor, and associates Dr. J. W. Chalmers, June Fritch, Dorothy Barnhouse, Thelma Gilless and James W. Fritch.

"Chinook Arch" is currently on sale in all book stores and department stores in Alberta, at $5 a copy, and is a volume which should be on the book shelves of every Alberta home.

Council Discuss River Dredging

Town councils in Coleman and Blairmore will be asked to make representations in Edmonton in the near future to meet with representatives of the Water Resources Department to discuss plans for dredging the Crows Nest River in the area. This was disclosed by Charles Drain, MLA, at Coleman council on July 25th.

Mr. Drain stated that he had contacted Harry Strom of the Department, and that Mr. Strom had advised that a meeting of two members of the Water Resources Branch would be organized to meet Mr. Drain to discuss the matter and problems that are being experienced in the Pass.

A general meeting will then be held with Blairmore and Coleman councils.

Mr. Drain advised that he felt confident that measures would be taken to correct the problems being caused by the high water tables in the district.

In West Coleman basements are flooded almost year-round, which prevents some home owners from enjoying the use of gas furnaces and the use of their basements. Wells in the area also become polluted.

In Blairmore some flooding of basements is being experienced in the north-east part of town, and water is seeping into the newly-installed sewer system.

It is felt by local authorities that much of the problems could be corrected if the heavy gravel bars that have formed in the Crows Nest River in the last few years were dredged out and the water channel lowered to carry away more water.

Recreation Program Is Discussed

Charles Drain, MLA, met with Coleman council July 25th to discuss the recreational program being organized for the Crows Nest Pass towns.

Mr. Drain presented council with an agreement which Minister of Youth R. Clarke wished to have the concerned Crows Nest Pass council sign so that steps can be taken without delay to hire a recreational director for the area. It was pointed out that qualified recreational directors are scarce.

Mr. Drain indicated that the approximate cost to Coleman would be $900 per year for a three-year period and he pointed out that the provincial government would be providing $12,000 per year for three years to cover the costs of the experimental plan.

The program would involve all of the towns in the area as well as the ID 10 and an organized program of recreation for all in the Pass area would be supervised by the recreational director that will be hired.

An overall recreational committee comprising representatives of each of the towns and district concerned would govern the plan.

Now that Coleman has signed and Bellevue has sent in its signed copy, Mr. Drain will attempt to have the other areas concerned sign the agreement.

Cadet R. Misura To Quebec

Raymond Misura, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Misura, attending summer Cadet Camp at Vernon, B. C., is a member of the platoon that has been selected as one of the Centennial platoons to visit Farnham Cadet Camp in Quebec.

The platoon was driven to Kamloops, B. C., and then flown to Vancouver from where they took a jet airliner on July 21st enroute to Quebec. While at Farnham Camp the platoon will visit Expo.

The Vernon platoon Cadets were chosen from 1100 Cadets and the members of the platoon were selected on their merits of training, proficiency and physical fitness.

The visit to Camp Farnham will last for two weeks and had been organized on a Cadet Exchange Plan.

Mr. MacNamara exhorted all who wish to escape this war of Armageddon to heed the knowledge from God's word the Bible.

Forty five new ministers were baptized in a specially heated pool on Friday morning, among them being Margaret Pickering of Coleman and Fern Miller Blairmore.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

"I'm Tempted To Go Broke"

In a small town not too far from Greenhorn Farm there are vast numbers of people on relief. The number shocked me, because the town had seemed so prosperous and busy. I asked a merchant about it, and his comment was a weird one.

"Yes," he said, "I think at the very least forty per cent of the families in this town are drawing relief. I hate to knock it, because they are my customers and spend pretty freely with me. But I must admit, I am sometimes tempted to go broke and join them. I see them out having fun when I am tied to this damned place day after day!"

I shook my head and went tsk, tsk, so he said, "Say - don't get me wrong! I wouldn't want anybody to suffer. I don't want any hardship, particularly for the kids."

I reassured him. I knew that he was a good man, a hard worker, and a fair dealer, and of a kindly nature. But he went on and on with his insistence that he was progressive, that he believed in welfare payments, that he was a good, modern, kind and generous citizen. But it did gripe him to be down at 8:30, uncrating merchandise, totting up his books (like me, he hates record-keeping), making decisions and all the rest of it, while a large percentage of the other family men in town were living it up on welfare. He was pretty sure that he was paying the welfare with his taxes, and in the price of the things he had to buy for his own family, but he just hated to get listed with the old-fashioned crowd that thinks of welfare as an evil thing... even though a necessary evil.

I came back home to the farm and did quite a bit of thinking about men like him, torn between a desire to be kind and progressive and a strong feeling that this welfare state business has got to be stopped before everybody gets "tempted to go broke".

I'm not tempted to go broke, but it could happen very easily without too much effort on my part. I believe that if we all worked hard, we could build a society so prosperous that darn little welfare would be needed; and where it was truly needed, it could be generous. But I just can't swallow the idea that darn near half a good-sized town is on relief, a town right in the heart of one of Canada's most fertile and prosperous valleys! A valley where an hour of labor today will buy more potatoes than an hour's labor in the '20's bought.

The welfare state may be a wonderful thing for those on welfare—but for how long can the rest of us afford it? And if the rest of us go broke, who is going to pay the welfare bills?

O. A. V. C. Notes

The course in Fashion and Design Technology offered at the Olds Agricultural and Vocational College is unique in several respects.

It is a combination of training in clothing and merchandising.

The course is one year in length and qualifies graduates for employment in any of the many businesses where knowledge of clothing construction, design, fabrics, machine operation and merchandising, are important. An effective placement service coupled with assistance from an advisory committee assures all graduates employment if they wish it.

Entrance requirements for the course are at least 16 years of age, and a high school diploma or 67 high school credits with at least a B standing in grade XI English and Mathematics.

Students unable to meet these requirements should consider the Home Economics course at Vermilion for which the entrance requirements are 16 years of age and at least grade X.

Additional information is available from the Principal, Agricultural and Vocational College, Olds.

Calgary Scores At Expo

Figures released today show Calgary Sook Ale, a brand produced by Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Limited, outselling all out of province Beers at Expo.

The Calgary product, competing with 59 other labels, is far and away the out of province leader.

Another Calgary brand, Calgary Lager, is also a leader, being the largest seller in Western Beers.

The Calgary Brewery also gave Expo another promotional assist. Just over a month ago bottle caps depicting 75 different scenes from Expo appeared in full color on the Calgary Brewery's products. The number of completely different scenes was chosen to coincide with the Company's 75th Anniversary this year.

Alberta Department Of Youth Invites Applications

Young Albertans between the ages of 16 and 22 are being invited by the Alberta Department of Youth to serve on a Youth Advisory Committee responsible to the Hon. Robert C. Clark, Minister of Youth.

Any individual, group or organization is eligible to submit nominations, until September 15, 1967, of committee candidates who, in their estimation, can best represent the diversified backgrounds, interests and ideas of young people in the province. Candidates nominated should also be willing to serve on the committee for a one- or two-year period.

The 21-member committee selected will act in an advisory capacity to the Minister of Youth to recommend ways in which the Department can assist young people in a rapidly developing technological and urban society.

In announcing plans for the new Committee, the Hon. Robert C. Clark said his Department was concerned that members selected represent a broad segment of society in Alberta.

As a guide to those who are interested in nominating members for the Youth Advisory Committee, he suggested that criteria for selection should include the following:

ing representation: age range approximately 16 - 22 years, male and female, single and married, urban and rural, academic and non-academic backgrounds, wide ethnic cross section, broad socioeconomic range and good communication skills.

Following the September 15, 1967, deadline, for receipt of nominations, a committee of three young people, approximately 16 to 22 years of age, will select an initial committee of 12 persons from nominations submitted. These twelve members will hold their first meeting in October of this year, to review the activities and plans of the Youth Department, examine the role the new committee is expected to play and choose nine more members to give full representation to Alberta youth on the 21-member Youth Advisory Committee.

Any young person between the ages of 16 and 22 who would be interested in fulfilling the responsibilities of the proposed Youth Advisory Committee and is vitally interested in the opportunities, decisions and problems facing other young people today, should write to: Youth Committee, Department of Youth, 28th Floor, CN Tower, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Forest Fire Threat

The most important enemy of forests is fire.

A single fire can destroy tens of thousands of board feet of lumber and vast quantities of pulpwood as well. With a wind behind it, a fire can rage through the forest at a tremendous rate, destroying all life in an area.

One such fire ran five miles in four hours, destroyed 100,000 board feet of lumber and 20,000 cords of wood and wiped the area clean of wildlife. This is a tremendous cost, to be measured in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It was caused by the carelessness of a camper who failed to extinguish his campfire completely before he left it.

On the average, 90 per cent of all fires are due to carelessness—smokers dropping lighted matches or cigarette stubs onto the forest floor, or settlers clearing land and letting their brush burning fires get away into the timber, or campers failing to put out their fires completely, or some other act of carelessness.

Every person who goes into the forest country has the definite responsibility of making sure that he does not cause such terrible destruction. The annual cost of fires is far too high, and all citizens of the province should do their best to make sure that the forests stay green and pleasant, full of wildlife and suitable for pleasant camping and fishing spots.

Please do your part this summer!

SUNBURN

(A First Aid Tip From St. John Ambulance)

Too much sun can be harmful. St. John Ambulance advises progressive exposure—beginning one's tan with 30 minute sessions, then gradually increasing as the skin's burn resistance builds up. Early morning or late afternoon tanning is recommended because the burning ultra-violet rays of the sun are then filtered through a greater depth of atmosphere before they reach the body.

If you do get a sunburn, an application of cold cream, olive oil, petroleum jelly or cool wet compresses can alleviate the pain.

If the burn is serious, see your doctor without delay.

A copy of Gustav Vigeland's "Embryo" is on exhibit in the Norwegian pavilion at Expo 67. It is a sculpture of an unborn child. The original sculpture is in a park in Oslo.

Fires Plague Pass Area

Fire brigades in the Crowns Nest Pass have been kept very busy putting out numerous grass fires that have started in various areas in the district.

Blairmore brigade was called at noon Sunday, July 30 to fight a fire in West Blairmore, and again Sunday noon to put out another grass fire along the railway tracks in West Blairmore.

Coleman brigade was called out shortly after midnight Sunday, July 30, to put out a grass and brush fire along the railway tracks in Willow Drive, West Coleman.

Hillcrest brigade was also called out on Sunday to put out a grass fire and reports of grass fires at Burmis and Cowley have also been received.

No damage resulted from the fires.

Blairmore Forest Service officials state that the Crowns Nest Forest is in tinder dry condition and persons travelling into the district should use extreme caution with fires and cigarettes in order to prevent forest fires. There has been very little rain in the district since June.

Pre-dried Coal Used For Coke Production

TOKYO — Testing of a new technique by using pre-dried coal to produce blast furnace coke is being conducted by Nippon Kokan K. K., Japan's major buyer of B. C. and Alberta coal.

The new technique was developed by the Coal Mining Research Centre of Japan after long studies and experiments.

Mixtures of domestic and imported coal now used for producing coke has moisture content of 8 to 10 per cent. Pre-drying it to 3 to 5 per cent is believed to make it possible to increase coke oven productivity by 10 to 15 per cent. Nippon Kokan's tests are underway at its Kawasaki plant and the company is studying the feasibility of adopting the new technique at its huge Fukuyama Iron Works.

Celebrating
75 years of brewing the
"GREAT BEER!"

Back in 1892, the first Calgary Beer was brewed. Great beer then! Great beer now! Even then, we had our own spring of pure, crystal water. "Calgary" has been brewed with this same perfect water for 75 years. Naturally!

Here's our new Diamond Jubilee label. It marks 75 years of brewing Alberta's "great beer".

CALGARY BREWING... since 1892

A Complaint About Consumers

This is the title of the following article which appeared in the May/June, 1967, issue of "Canadian Consumer", the magazine of the Consumers' Association of Canada.

"Housewives have been complaining about the high prices they have been paying for their groceries and most of their anger has been directed at the Supermarket. Not many of us, perhaps, hear the other side of the story. The grocer has legitimate complaints about the consumer and what we are costing him. Yes, consumers are partly responsible for rising prices.

How? One of the reasons is shoplifting. This problem is by no means confined to supermarkets, but has been an increasing problem for all merchants. This may be service with its lessened supervision of store merchandise by clerks, but it also suggests some lowering of moral values.

Grocers report that the biggest increase in shoplifting has occurred in the 6 to 16 year group with college students among the worst offenders. The latter are inclined to pick up expensive items from the gourmet section. Is this the result of childhood trips to the supermarket with a careless or dishonest parent? The child of 6 who is not taught to pay for the candy bar he takes from the grocer's shelf, may develop into the teenager who "forgets to pay for the cigarettes or steaks he picks up".

Children are not the only offenders. Adults, who usually have money to pay for what they have taken, are at fault, too.

Many "stores" are now levying charges against shoplifters and courts are handing out stiffer penalties. One Kitchener grocer estimates that he lost merchandise worth $100,000 to shoplifters last year!

A particularly expensive item that has been disappearing from the supermarket with alarming frequency is the shopping cart.

Toronto's 350 supermarkets report that they are each losing an average of one and a half carts a week. At $36.00 a cart, that is nearly one million dollars a year in one city! And we pay for them eventually in higher prices.

Shoppers casually push a shopping cart home, sometimes returning with it on their next trip, sometimes finding it useful elsewhere in the house. One lady asked to exchange her two-year-old model for one of the new ones her local grocery store had just installed! And then there was the cartnapper caught with 25 shopping carts stored on his verandah. "Haha! had time to return them," he said.

Remember, that we must all pay for these losses in the cost of our food. Do your part—be alert, help prevent shoplifting.

Jehovah's Witnesses Attend District Assembly

Twenty-four Jehovah's Witnesses from the Pass local congregations joined thousands of their associates from all over Alberta, five provinces, Canada, and many from the United States at the "Disciple-Making" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses which took place August 3 - 6 in the Exhibition Grounds in Medicine Hat.

The convention was arranged by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society of Jehovah's Witnesses. An attendance of 2500 was anticipated.

"This 'Disciple-Making' assembly was one of 86 such assemblies throughout Canada, United States and Europe during July, August and September," said John Jones, presiding minister of the Coleman congregation.

Mr. Jones said, "The purpose of this assembly is to focus attention on God's 'Word of Truth'. At morning, afternoon and evening sessions, fundamental Bible truth was thoroughly discussed, enhancing the understanding of those present and strengthening their faith. While the entire assembly was open to all persons who are interested in God's Word," Mr. Jones went on to explain, "the talk delivered at three o'clock on Sunday afternoon, August 6th, was especially advertised for the public. The subject for this one hour talk was 'Rescuing a Great Crowd of Mankind Out of Armageddon'. Mr. A. W. MacNemara was the principal speaker."
